Join us as we explore survivorship issues related to returning to work, optimizing function and body concerns. Patients are at the heart of all we do, and providing a comprehensive, multidisciplinary survivorship program to address individual needs is an essential part of the patient journey.

National experts, regional team members, and a panel of survivors gather on Friday, April 8th for our 2022 Virtual Spring Meeting: New Horizons in Survivorship to share evidence based, practical knowledge to help us improve upon existing programs designed to support patients as they transition to survivorship.

We’ll get to the heart of the matter, talking about intervention strategies that can help cancer survivors cope with body image changes, where the research gaps in cancer survivorship are, what resources can help patients meet individual needs, what legal protections are in place to support survivors in return to work, and what types of interventions can help improve functional outcomes in cancer survivors.

SESSIONS INCLUDE:
- Survivorship Care in the Community Setting
- Focus on Optimizing Function Panel
- Innovative Poster Session
